

Team Science “Brainstorming” Bootcamp:

- Is your team developing a new grant submission or product for commercialization?
- Are the members of your team from different disciplines or specialized expertise areas?
- Interested in receiving brainstorming facilitation while earning a $40 Amazon gift card per person?

Come participate in a new team science study!

Maritza Salazar Campo, Director of Team Science at UCLA’s CTSA, is seeking participants for a study on innovative teams and their work processes.

Participation criteria:

Your team must have at least 3 members

If your team has more than 5 members, no more than 5 may participate

Your whole team (or the 5 members chosen) must participate together

Time commitment:

One team training session (1.5 hours)—you will focus on your own work!

One online post training survey (15-20 minutes, about two weeks later)

In appreciation of your time, you will receive a $40 Amazon gift card per person when you submit the post training survey online.

To volunteer or ask questions, contact Dr. Maritza Salazar (smaritza@uci.edu) or Daniel Slyngstad (daniel.slyngstad@cgu.edu).
